

Giandomenico RIVETTI

MANAGING PARTNER

AXCELPartnersItaly

Giandomenico has 35 years of experience in the Electrical Equipment industry with ABB starting as an Electronic Designer and going on to hold several leadership positions, first in R&D, then as Head of a Global Product Group, managing a large factory then a region, and finally a multi-billion Global Business Unit.

By leading organizations in over 60 countries on all continents, he acquired a strong international background and multicultural sensitivity. Change management has always inspired him and with his teams, he has successfully executed business development projects, product portfolio reviews, footprint and business models redesign. He always considered the clear understanding of his customers' needs.

Giandomenico owns a Master's Degree in Electronics from Politecnico di Milano and a MBA in Digital Business from Universitat de Barcelona and Zigurat Global Institute of Technology.