

Stefano PORETTA

Senior Advisor

Stefano first held the role of laboratory technician and then laboratory manager at CESI spa (Enel group) before moving to the position of commercial manager of Test Services.

He held the position of department manager for automation and electromagnetic compatibility at ABB Ricerca spa. Stefano also founded and covered the role of general director of Comonext, a Science and Technology Park which hosts around 120 companies, especially SMEs, supporting them in their innovation and fund raising processes.

He was a Partner and President of the Board of Directors of a consultancy company which offers innovation support services, especially to SMEs.

Stefano is an electronic engineer at the Polytechnic of Milan and attended a three-year MBA at the Bocconi University of Milan.